
Colors are generating labels inspected after fitting; they never enter training or selection.
Paired conditions are repeated measurements. Axes differ across representations.