
25 observations/cohort; pointwise Wilson 95% intervals for selection rates; ARI medians are descriptive.
No new default or significance claim. No-group K selection is not a calibrated type-I error rate; stability is reported separately.